

at / in / on (Prepositions of time)

Use this table to test yourself:

1. Cover the at/in/on/X column or fold your sheet so you can't see it.
2. Look at the example.
3. Do we use at, in, on or X(no preposition)?
4. Look and check.
5. If you aren't sure why, look at the information in the because... column.

at / in / on / X	Example	because...
in	June	a month
in	the evening	a period of time
on	Tuesday	a day
X	next week	no preposition with 'next'
on	Tuesday morning	part of a day
in	spring	a season
at	5.30pm	a time
in	2007	a year
on	22nd June	a date
at	New Year	a festival
on	New Year's Day	a day
in	the 1990s	a decade
in	the 21st Century	a century
at	night	this is an exception
at	the moment	a specific point in time at	the weekend	this is an exception in	the middle of summer	a period of time at	the beginning of the lesson	a specific point in time
X	last year	no preposition with 'last'
in	The lesson ends ____ 10 minutes.	a period of time